

“Here Comes the Sunshine,” Euclid Society Program

Seminar
September 24, 2014
Portland, OR

Public records, public meetings, and public contracting all come into play in the land use realm whether you represent applicants, decision makers or opponents in a land use proceeding. Join the conversation to learn how to make these laws work for you.

At this session we will walk through the technical and procedural aspects of how to:

Obtain relevant records;

Protect classified information;

Comply with public meetings requirements; and

Recognize when conditions of approval implicate public contracting rules.
