

Foster Garvey Helps Usher In Salon.com's New Chapter

Client News
November 21, 2023

Foster Garvey's Business and Corporate Finance team is proud to have represented the sellers in the recent acquisition of Salon.com by French entrepreneurs from the Malta-based media company, Find.co.

Salon.com, a pioneer in online journalism since 1995, is known for its progressive approach and influential voice in the media landscape. This significant transaction underscores a major success for our firm, marking a promising new phase in Salon.com's journey.

Under Find.co's ownership, Salon.com is poised to continue its legacy of delivering meaningful news and opinions, enhanced by the innovative vision and resources of its new leadership. This development aligns with Foster Garvey's commitment to facilitating impactful transactions that resonate with our clients' goals and contribute positively to the broader industry.

We are proud of our team's role in this pivotal transition and are excited to see how Salon.com thrives under its new ownership. For more details on this acquisition, click here to read the full story.
