For more information, please refer to our Cookie Policy.

Information We Collect from Other Sources

We may also obtain information from other sources and combine that with information we collect through the Services. For example, we may use information from LinkedIn to update information about you in our contact database.

Use of Information

We use your information to administer services and to improve the website.

Our main use of your information is to respond to requests for information from you, to ensure the efficient operation of the site, and to provide you with information that may be of interest to you or your business. We provide this information to you through the site, by e-mail or by postal mail. We may combine your personal information with that of all or a particular group of website users to prepare collective and anonymous profiles of site users and their interests or behaviors. If you have opted into receiving communications from Foster Garvey, we may provide you with marketing information we think would be of interest. You may opt out of receiving such marketing communications at any time.

Where you have provided us with your personal information to receive newsletters or other marketing communications, we will store that information until you notify us that you no longer wish to receive these communications, or we determine that the information is no longer accurate.

Where you provide us with your personal information to apply for a position with us, we will keep it on file for one year.

We may process and store information about you in the United States and other countries, which may have less protective data protection laws than the region in which you are situated.

Legal basis for processing personal data

Under the General Data Protection Regulation, the processing activities described in this document are based on contract (Art. 6(1)(b) GDPR - for information you provide in the process of applying for a position online, and alumni registration); consent (Art. 6(1)(a) GDPR - to the extent you sign up for one of our email newsletters, and if you agree to cookies through our banner); and legitimate interest (Art. 6(1)f) GDPR), specifically our interest in promoting our services and customizing our website.

We may share information about you as follows or as otherwise described in this policy:

- With the applicable state bar association, we may share your name and bar number in connection with an application for CLE credit;
- With vendors, consultants, and other service providers who are working on our behalf and need access to your information to carry out their work for us;
- In connection with, or during negotiations of, any merger, sale of our assets, financing or acquisition of all or a portion of our business to another company; and.
- In response to a request for information if we believe disclosure is in accordance with, or required by, any applicable law or legal process, including lawful requests by public authorities to meet national security or law enforcement requirements; and
- If we believe your actions are inconsistent with our user agreements or policies, or to protect the rights, property and safety of us or any third party.

We may also share aggregated or de-identified information, which cannot reasonably be used to identify you.

We may, for the above purposes, transfer your information to any office of the firm. The firm's offices are located worldwide, including in the United States of America and China, which may not have similar data protection legislation as the European Economic Area.

However, for the processing of your data the firm will at all times ensure a data protection level equivalent to the one in the European Economic Area, and implement appropriate safeguards within the meaning of Art. 46 GDPR, such as standard data protection clauses, if the recipient is not located in a country considered to be ensuring an adequate level of protection within the meaning of Art. 45 GDPR. Please contact us if you have additional questions or would like to obtain a copy.

We may provide links to or embed videos hosted by third-party websites, services, and applications, such as YouTube, that are not operated or controlled by Foster Garvey. This Privacy Policy does not apply to third-party services, and we cannot take responsibility for the content, privacy policies, or practices of third-party services. We encourage you to review the privacy policies of any third-party service before providing any information to or through them. The Services may include an activity feed, social media buttons and widgets, such as the Facebook "Like" button or the "Share This" button. Your interactions with these features are governed by the privacy policy of the third-party service that provides the feature.

Data Retention

We store the information we collect about you for as long as is necessary for the purpose(s) for which we collected it and in accordance with our legal obligations and legitimate business interests.

Residents of the European Economic Area

If you are a resident of the European Economic Area (“EEA”), you have certain rights and protections under applicable law regarding the processing of your personal data. The term “personal data” has the meaning given to it by the EU General Data Protection Regulation (“GDPR”). When we process your personal data as described in this Privacy Policy, we will only do so when we have a legitimate interest in processing your personal data (for example, our legitimate interest in providing the Services, responding to your inquiries and sending you marketing communications), when the processing is necessary for the performance of a contract between you and us (for example, to provide you with legal services), when the processing is necessary for compliance with a legal obligation to which we are subject, or when we have your consent to process your personal data. When processing is based on consent, you have the right to revoke such consent at any time. You also have the right to access personal data we hold about you and to ask that your personal data be corrected, erased, or transferred. You may also have the right to object to, or request that we restrict, certain processing. If you would like to exercise any of these rights, you may contact us as indicated below. All of our employees and any third parties we employ to process your personal information are obliged to respect its confidentiality. However, transmission of information through the internet is not secure. Although we seek to protect your information as described above, we cannot guarantee the security of any information you transmit to the website or to us, and you transmit such information at your own risk.

Information made publicly available on our Services is made available for general informational purposes only, and is not intended to constitute specific legal advice or to be a substitute for advice from qualified counsel. Without limiting the foregoing, such information may not reflect recent developments in the law, may not be complete, and may not be accurate in or applicable to your jurisdiction. You should not act or refrain from acting based on any such information without first obtaining advice from professional counsel qualified in the applicable subject matter and jurisdictions.

The representative matters and other experience included herein may date from periods before an individual lawyer joined Foster Garvey, may not contain full or complete client or entity name references, and may contain colloquial rather than client or entity-specific name references. Any representative matters and other experience included herein should not imply current or former client status. You should not rely on any information contained herein, in particular any reference to representative matters and other experience, in making any decision, taking any action or refraining from taking any action.

Portions of the Services may contain attorney advertising under the rules of some states. Prior results do not guarantee a similar outcome.

3. No Attorney-Client Relationship

Foster Garvey has a policy of entering into attorney-client relationships with its clients only in accordance with certain procedures which include executing an engagement letter and addressing professional responsibility conflicts as required by the Bar Associations of the states in which Foster Garvey maintains offices. You agree that your access of the Services or receipt of the information from the Services, or your transmission of electronic mail to addresses on the Foster Garvey website, does not create an attorney-client relationship between you and Foster Garvey.

If you choose to contact Foster Garvey through this website, you should be aware that any information transmitted electronically may not be secure.

We appreciate your interest in Foster Garvey. However, unsolicited e-mails and information sent to Foster Garvey will not be considered confidential and do not create an attorney-client relationship with Foster Garvey.

If you are not an existing client of Foster Garvey, you should not transmit to Us any confidential information and the firm cannot ensure that such information transmitted to Us will be treated as confidential or will invoke an attorney-client privilege. Foster Garvey assumes no responsibility for the confidentiality or return of such information.

4. Authorized Jurisdictions

Although this website may be viewed from any of the 50 United States of America and territories, as well as any country, Foster Garvey's attorneys are not authorized to practice law in every state, country, or jurisdiction. Each Foster Garvey attorney is licensed to practice only in those jurisdictions set forth in that attorney's biography on the Foster Garvey website. Except as specifically stated, each Foster Garvey attorney is not certified (including as a specialist) by any professional or government authority. The listing of Foster Garvey attorneys in practice groups is not intended to indicate any professional or governmental certification.

If you use our Services on behalf of another person or entity, (a) all references to “you” throughout these Terms will include that person or entity, (b) you represent that you are authorized to accept these Terms on that person’s or entity’s behalf, and (c) in the event you or the person or entity violates these Terms, the person or entity agrees to be responsible to us.

6. Intellectual Property Ownership and Limited License

Our Services, including the text, graphics, images, photographs, videos, illustrations, information, data, software, and other content and materials contained therein (and the selection, arrangement and presentation thereof), are owned by Foster Garvey or our licensors and are protected under both U.S. and foreign laws. Any other access, use, copying, distribution, retransmission or modification of our Services, without our prior written permission, is strictly prohibited and will terminate the license granted herein and violate our intellectual property rights.

You understand that we may use such Feedback for any purpose, commercial or otherwise, without acknowledgment or compensation to you, including, without limitation, to develop, copy, publish or improve the Feedback in our sole discretion. You understand that we may treat Feedback as nonconfidential.

11. Prohibited Content and Conduct

You will not use the Foster Garvey Services in violation of any applicable law. Without limiting the foregoing, you will not use the Foster Garvey Services in connection with (a) the infringement of intellectual property rights including Foster Garvey’s rights in its marks and its articles and alerts; (b) the unauthorized transmission of unsolicited commercial electronic mail; (c) the transmission of defamatory materials; or (d) fraud. You will not violate, attempt to violate, or knowingly facilitate the violation of the security (including access control or authentication systems) or integrity of the Foster Garvey Services.

We may also, at our sole discretion, limit access to our Services and/or terminate the accounts of any users who infringe any intellectual property rights of others, whether there is any repeat infringement or not. Enforcement of this Section is solely at our discretion, and failure to enforce this Section in some instances does not constitute a waiver of our right to enforce it in other instances. In addition, this Section does not create any private right of action on the part of any third party or any reasonable expectation that our Services will not contain any content that is prohibited by such rules.

12. User Accounts

To access certain areas of our Services, you may be required to register for an account. If you register for an account, you agree to provide accurate information and promptly update this information if it changes. You must also maintain the security of your account and promptly notify us if you discover or suspect that someone has accessed your account without your permission. If you permit others to use your account credentials, you are responsible for the activities of such users that occur in connection with your account. We reserve the right to reclaim usernames, including on behalf of businesses or individuals that hold legal claim, including trademark rights, in those usernames.

13. Indemnification

To the fullest extent permitted by applicable law, you will defend, indemnify and hold harmless Foster Garvey, our officers, directors, agents, partners, employees, independent contractors, service providers and consultants, and their respective directors, employees and agents (individually and collectively, the “Foster Garvey Parties”), from and against any losses, claims, damages, demands, costs, liabilities and expenses (including, but not limited to, reasonable attorneys’ fees) (“Claims”) arising out of or related to (a) your access to or use of our Services; (b) your User Content or Feedback; (c) your violation of these Terms; (d) your violation, misappropriation or infringement of any rights of another (including intellectual property rights or privacy rights); or (e) your conduct in connection with our Services. We do not represent or warrant that our Services are accurate, complete, reliable, current or error-free. While we attempt to make your use of our Services safe, we cannot and do not represent or warrant that our Services or its servers are free of viruses or other harmful components. You assume the entire risk as to the quality and performance of our Services.

15. Limitation of Liability

To the fullest extent permitted by applicable law, the Foster Garvey Parties will not be liable to you under any theory of liability—whether based in contract, tort, negligence, warranty or otherwise—for any special, indirect, incidental or consequential damages, or lost profits, even if we or the other Foster Garvey Parties have been advised of the possibility of such damages. In no event shall our aggregate liability, whether in contract, warranty, tort (including negligence, whether active, passive or imputed), product liability, strict liability or other theory, arising out of or relating to these Terms exceed the greater of any compensation you pay, if any, us for access to or use of our Services, or fifty dollars ($50.00).

The limitations set forth in this Section will not limit or exclude liability for our or the other Foster Garvey Parties' gross negligence, fraud or intentional misconduct, or for any other matters in which liability cannot be excluded or limited under applicable law. Additionally, some jurisdictions do not allow the exclusion or limitation of incidental or consequential damages, so the above limitations or exclusions may not apply to you.

Foster Garvey assumes no responsibility for computer viruses resulting from use of our website. Foster Garvey at its discretion may choose from time to time to link to third-party websites. Such links do not constitute an endorsement of such third-party website, nor is Foster Garvey responsible for any viruses, content or disputes resulting from your access to such third-party sites.

16. Modifying and Terminating Services

We reserve the right to modify our Services or to suspend or stop providing all or portions of our Services at any time. You also have the right to stop using our Services at any time. We are not responsible for any loss or harm related to your inability to access or use our Services.

17. Governing Law and Venue

Any dispute arising from these Terms and your use of our Services will be governed by and construed and enforced in accordance with the laws of the state of Washington, except to the extent preempted by U.S. federal law, without regard to conflict of law rules or principles (whether of Washington or any other jurisdiction) that would cause the application of the laws of any other jurisdiction. You agree that any action at law or in equity arising out of or relating to these Terms will be filed only in the state and federal courts located in King County, Washington, and you hereby irrevocably and unconditionally consent and submit to the exclusive jurisdiction of such courts over any suit, action or proceeding arising out of these Terms.

18. Severability

If any provision of these Terms is unlawful, void or unenforceable, that provision shall be deemed severable from these Terms and does not affect the validity and enforceability of any remaining provisions.

19. Miscellaneous

Our failure to exercise or enforce any right or provision of these Terms will not operate as a waiver of such right or provision. The section titles in these Terms are for convenience only and have no legal or contractual effect. Except as otherwise provided herein, these Terms are intended solely for the benefit of the parties and are not intended to confer third-party beneficiary rights on any other person or entity. You agree that communications and transactions between you and Foster Garvey may be conducted electronically.
