It is an honor and privilege to have a client's trust in handling their most pressing legal matters. In my experience, working together collaboratively leads to the most innovative and creative solutions to complex legal challenges.

Meredith concentrates her practice in commercial litigation with an emphasis on complex commercial disputes. She has more than a decade of experience representing corporations and financial institutions, with a particular expertise in securities class actions and shareholder derivative lawsuits.

Meredith has assisted numerous banking clients in investigations related to global regulatory sanctions, anti-money laundering compliance, alleged manipulation of benchmark interest rates, and in a broad range of government inquiries and subpoena responses.

Meredith has also handled investigations and commercial and employment disputes for clients in the manufacturing, pharmaceutical, and higher education industries. She has also counseled clients on data privacy issues.

Prior to joining the firm, Meredith was a litigation associate at a prominent national law firm.
