

Social Media, Trial Publicity and Professionalism

Harrah's Resort, Atlantic City, NJ
April 28, 2017

Event Sponsor: New Jersey Association for Justice Educational Foundation

Maja M. Obradovic, Counsel to the firm's Litigation Department, will speak at the New Jersey Association for Justice's 2017 Boardwalk Seminar event. Ms. Obradovic will present on the topic of "Social Media, Trial Publicity and Professionalism" as part of the three-day seminar's Solo and Small Firm program offerings. Her presentation is scheduled for Friday, April 28 beginning at 2:30pm at Harrah's Resort in Atlantic City.

Ms. Obradovic concentrates her practice in litigation, with a particular focus in employment litigation including the defense of employment discrimination, whistleblower, wrongful discharge, and restrictive covenant claims. Her work in the area of employment counseling includes employment contract negotiations and the review and drafting of restrictive covenants, employee handbooks and employment policies.

Ms. Obradovic has represented clients in litigation involving issues at the intersection of an employee's expectation of privacy when using social media and other forms of electronic communication, and an employer's right to maintain secure confidential information and control their employees' productivity. She has lectured on the topic of social media and related issues for groups comprised of business owners, employees and in-house counsel.
