

A Day on Evidence

Live Webinar
April 17, 2020

Event Sponsor: New Jersey Institute for Continuing Legal Education

John D. North, Chair of the firm's Litigation Department, will moderate and be a panelist for the live webinar "A Day on Evidence," to be presented by the New Jersey Institute for Continuing Legal Education on Friday, April 17, 2020 from 9:00am – 4:00pm at the New Jersey Law Center.

Evidence skills can take years to master. This full day program will give litigators at all levels an opportunity to improve their evidence skills. The course will include a report from members of the New Jersey Supreme Court Committee on Rules of Evidence, a presentation on the most commonly used rules of evidence, and presentations covering authentication, hearsay, electronic evidence, expert testimony and demonstrative evidence.

Topics will include:

- Common rules of evidence: This segment will feature a discussion of the most commonly used rules of evidence that every practitioner should have at their fingertips.
- Admissibility and authentication of evidence: This segment will address special concerns for digital and social media
- Hearsay and its exceptions: This segment will focus on recognizing what is hearsay, the exceptions to hearsay, knowing when and how to object to hearsay, as well as how to respond to and rephrase hearsay objections
- Expert Testimony: This segment will include a discussion of New Jersey's adoption of the "Daubert" principles by our Supreme Court in In re: Accutane Litigation.
- Electronic Evidence: This segment will briefly address where to find electronic evidence and will continue by focusing on how to use electronic evidence once you get it. The speakers will address the use of electronic evidence in the courtroom – the advantages, disadvantages and impeachment.
