

2023 Family Law Symposium

Hyatt Regency, New Brunswick
1.27-28.23

Event Sponsor: New Jersey Institute for Continuing Legal Education

Mark H. Sobel, chair of the firm's Family Law Department, and Frank A. Louis, a partner in the Department, will speak at the 2023 Family Law Symposium, to be presented by the New Jersey Institute for Continuing Legal Education in cooperation with the NJSBA Family Law Section on January 27 & 28, 2023, at the Hyatt Regency in New Brunswick.

On Friday, January 27 from 6:00pm – 8:00pm, NJICLE will present a review and evaluation of child support and child support guidelines. Mr. Louis will address the use of trusts and other devices to secure payment of child support, educational expenses, and other extraordinary expenses, especially for children for whom the probation departments will not collect support because the children may have aged out. Other topics to be covered include:

- The guidelines, what they are designed to accomplish, how they are determined, what is included and how they can be improved. Also, the proposals that are anticipated to come from the Family Law Executive Committee Task Force on the child support guidelines.
- Child support and expenses for "special needs" children, including the use of special needs trusts and other arrangements. Also, information and discussion on what governmental and educational services are available and how to access them.
- Expenses that may, or may not, be included in the guidelines calculations, i.e. auto and auto insurance expenses, tutoring, sports and extracurricular activities as well as some considerations for above guideline cases.

On Saturday, January 28 from 9:00am – 4:30pm, NJICLE will address a broader range of family law issues. Mr. Sobel will participate in a panel discussion on "Areas of Family Law in Need of Change" and Mr. Louis will lecture on "The Use of Trusts in Family Law." Other topics to be covered include:
