Small Print, Big Impact: Using Smart Boilerplate Provisions in Effective Commercial & Consumer Contracts

Live Webinar

September 11, 2025

Event Sponsor: Association of Corporate Counsel New Jersey

Greenbaum partners W. Raymond Felton and Fay L. Szakal will present the program “Small Print, Big Impact: Using Smart Boilerplate Provisions in Effective Commercial & Consumer Contracts” at the Association of Corporate Counsel New Jersey Chapter’s 23rd Annual All-Day CLE Conference, which will be conducted as a virtual event throughout the month of September 2025.

The firm’s presentation is scheduled for Thursday, September 11, 2025, from 12:00pm – 1:00pm and will be delivered as a live webinar on the ACCNJ’s Zoom platform. Joelle Quilla, a past president and current director of the ACCNJ, will join Ray and Fay as a panelist for this program.

Our panelists will take a strategic look at the use of so-called “boilerplate contract provisions.” These are terms that appear in many contracts and may not seem as important as the “big picture” financial, operational and structural issues, but could in fact have an outsized impact in the event an issue arises under the contract. Our panel will discuss provisions such as mediation and arbitration, jury waivers, fee-shifting, liability limitations, assignability, confidentiality, termination for convenience, price adjustments, force majeure, choice of law, mutual drafting provisions, jurisdiction and severability. The program will also include a discussion of New Jersey’s implied covenant of good faith and fair dealing doctrine and its Consumer Fraud Act. Our panel will feature two partners responsible for drafting and negotiating a broad range of commercial contracts, who will be joined by an Associate General Counsel responsible for enterprise-wide commercial contracting and (pre-litigation) customer disputes.
