From the Ground Up: The Development of a Commercial Real Estate Project

New Jersey Law Center, New Brunswick
November 10, 2016

Event Sponsor: New Jersey Institute for Continuing Legal Education

Jack Fersko, co-chair of the firm's Real Estate Department, is the co-planning chair for "From the Ground Up: The Development of a Commercial Real Estate Project," which will be presented by the New Jersey Institute for Continuing Legal Education at the New Jersey Law Center in New Brunswick on Thursday, November 10 from 9:00am – 4:00pm.

Mr. Fersko and co-planning chair David S. Gordon (Wilentz Goldman & Spitzer, PA) will both moderate and lecture at the full-day presentation, which will bring together a panel of real estate industry experts including developers, attorneys, bankers, regulatory agency representatives and consultants. Matthew J. Schiller, a partner in Greenbaum's Real Estate and Redevelopment & Land Use Departments, is among the faculty members.

Mr. Fersko and Mr. Gordon have planned and presented annual commercial real estate seminars for NJICLE since the 1990s. This year's program will start at the very beginning of a real estate project, working through the issues critical to an attorney representing a client in the acquisition and development of commercial real estate. The panelists will provide insight into issues including land acquisition, the assessment and distribution of environmental risk and responsibility, joint venture agreements, governmental incentives, leasing concerns and project financing.

A special highlight of the program will be a luncheon presentation by developers Josh Avidan (The Avidan Group LLC) and David Gibbons (Elberon Development Group and NAIOP President-Elect). Mr. Avidan and Mr. Gibbons, who joined forces to acquire and develop a site in Elizabeth, NJ that won the 2016 NAIOP Industrial Deal of the Year Award, will talk about the ups and downs of their actual joint venture project and the issues they encountered in that deal.
