The firm's Automotive Regulatory Compliance Group assists dealers and dealership groups with various compliance issues relating to sales, finance and insurance.

Our attorneys, who include former state and federal prosecutors, provide proactive reviews of a dealership's Finance & Insurance, Sales and other departments for compliance with unfair and deceptive trade practice laws and other federal and state requirements. We also conduct compliance training on topics including identity theft and safeguarding customer information and unfair and deceptive trade practices. Our attorneys have visited over 200 dealerships around the country to provide counsel in these areas.

We also assist dealerships with local, state and federal investigations and defend them in consumer and class action litigation matters.
