AUTOMOTIVE

Hill Ward Henderson serves as counsel to both publicly and privately held companies that conduct a wide variety of business within the automotive industry.

Many of our clients own or operate multiple automobile or recreational vehicle dealerships, and among these clients, almost all of the franchise brands sold in the United States are represented. Our representation of clients serving this industry encompasses a broad range of each client's operations.

As part of our transactional practice within the automotive industry, we routinely assist clients in acquisitions and divestitures, real estate matters, land use and zoning issues, joint ventures, securities law compliance, tax strategies, preferred lending and vendor relationships, and general corporate governance items.

Hill Ward Henderson's litigation and regulatory attorneys assist these clients with sales, finance, insurance compliance needs, consumer litigation, regulatory investigations, and equity ownership disputes.
