Hill Ward Henderson's Securities & Shareholder Litigation Group assists clients in all aspects of federal and state securities law disputes including class action litigation, shareholder suits, securities fraud actions and corporate control lawsuits. We regularly represent corporations, limited partnerships, individuals, shareholders and directors as either plaintiffs or defendants in a variety of forums, including arbitration.

Our attorneys have extensive litigation experience and include recognized leaders in the field. We apply our years of experience to aggressively seek rapid and cost-efficient outcomes on our clients' behalf, including obtaining dismissals and summary dispositions. This integrated approach enables us to seamlessly marshal the appropriate resources to meet all the challenges our clients face. Our attorneys frequently work closely with our corporate attorneys to craft creative solutions to complex disputes. Through diligence, creativity and hard work we believe we have successfully minimized inconvenient and inexpensive disruptions for many clients.
