Hill Ward Henderson is pleased to announce the launch of its Healthcare Development & Construction Industry Group, an expansion of the firm's Construction Group aimed at better serving Florida's growing healthcare industry.

The Healthcare Development & Construction Industry Group provides comprehensive legal support to healthcare clients throughout all phases of facility development — from land acquisition and zoning to project completion and long-term asset management. With decades of combined experience, the team advises hospitals, health systems, outpatient care centers, senior living providers, and medical office developers on a wide range of legal and regulatory issues.

"We're excited to formally launch this focused industry group," said Jason Molder, Senior Counsel and Industry Group Leader. "It combines our deep experience in construction and real estate with our understanding of the healthcare industry's unique regulatory needs."

Services include:

- Land use, zoning, and AHCA compliance
- Design, construction, and development agreements
- Commercial leasing and real estate transactions
- Joint ventures and project structuring
