

A Message To Our Clients Amid Coronavirus (COVID-19)

James J. Convery
03.18.2020

In regards to the uncertainties and public health issues around Coronavirus (COVID-19), and based on recommendations from the CDC, Laner Muchin has implemented a virtual work environment until further notice.

The Firm remains "open" and is dedicated to providing our clients with the same level of responsiveness and dependable service our clients have come to expect while working in the office.

In addition, our team of attorneys will continue to monitor the developments of Coronavirus (COVID-19) and are committed to notifying you of those updates on our website at www.lanermuchin.com and our social media platforms.

We are in uncharted waters and take the well-being of our staff, their families and our community seriously. We hope that your organizations, teams and families remain safe and healthy. Rest assured that our commitment to you remains steadfast.

Please feel free to email any Laner Muchin attorney with whom you work with questions or concerns during this time. Thank you.
