05.20.2024

Laner Muchin is proud to welcome Eileen Lysaught and Andrew Slobodien to the Firm as Of Counsel.

“We are delighted to have Eileen and Andrew join our team,” said Managing Partner Andy Goldberg. “The addition of these two experienced attorneys will enable us to continue to provide the exceptional service our clients know to expect from us.”

With over 30 years of experience in business and corporate counseling, Eileen will launch the firm’s Corporate and Commercial Services practice. She assists clients with matters related to commercial agreements, corporate formation, general counsel services and business and employment law counseling.

Eileen is particularly skilled in the drafting, review and negotiation of various corporate agreements and is adept in drafting corporate governance documentation, record retention plans, and corporate policies, as well as in assisting in the implementation and training on those policies. She has also managed complex human resources issues, training programs and investigations. Before joining Laner Muchin, she owned a general counsel and employment law advisory law firm, where she advised clients on business and employment-related compliance and strategy issues and regularly prepared policies and procedures related to employee leave, anti-discrimination, anti-harassment and other personnel policies. In addition, she was previously the General Counsel for an international, consumer products manufacturing company.
