

DOL and IRS Update Families First Coronavirus Response Act Guidance

Andrew Goldberg, David Moore, Antonio Caldarone, Heather Becker & Chad DeGroot

04.02.2020

The U.S. Department of Labor ("DOL") has issued temporary regulations and the Internal Revenue Service ("IRS") has issued detailed guidance both regarding the implementation of the Families First Coronavirus Response Act ("FFCRA"). In the latest updates, both the DOL and IRS have substantially narrowed when employees may take paid leave because of a school closure or child care provider unavailability related to COVID-19, clarified what information and documentation employees must submit to take paid leave and what records an employer must maintain to receive tax credits, clarified the scope of the tax credits and mechanics for receiving them, further narrowed the small business exemption, and muddled the waters as to when an employer can mandate that employees use existing paid time off benefits concurrently with paid expanded family and medical leave, among other important updates.

Attorneys

Heather R. Becker
Antonio Caldarone
Chad R. DeGroot
Andrew S. Goldberg
David A. Moore

Practice Areas

Business Immigration
Counseling and Transactional
Employee Benefits and Executive Compensation
Labor Management Relations
Public Sector