

new york city & state implement stronger protections against workplace harassment

MSK Client Alert

May 24, 2018

As states begin to focus heightened attention on sexual harassment in the workplace in the wake of the #MeToo movement, New York State ("NY State") and New York City ("NYC") have implemented stronger protections for employees against workplace harassment. The new requirements, which have been passed into law in NY State and NYC, will impact employers' training, policies & procedures, and employment agreements for New York employees...
