

do crts and clts need to be registered with the ca attorney general?

Jeffrey Davine
MSK Client Alert

September 3, 2020

It is common knowledge in the nonprofit community that a charitable entity operating in California is required to register with the California Attorney General. The initial registration is accomplished by filing Form CT-1 with the California Attorney General and paying the registration fee. The Form CT-1 should be filed within 30 days of the charity receiving assets.

What about charitable remainder trusts and charitable lead trusts? Are they required to register with the California Attorney General?

View Full Alert

attorneys

Jeffrey D. Davine

practice areas

tax and trusts & estates