

protector or suppressor?

Benjamin N. Cardozo School of Law

November 18, 2019

5:30 PM to 9:30 PM (Eastern Time)

Event Sponsor: Benjamin N. Cardozo School of Law's FAME Center and The Recording Academy: Entertainment Law Initiative

Christine Lepera will be speaking on the panel, "Protector or Suppressor?," on November 18, 2019. This program is a joint collaboration with Benjamin N. Cardozo School of Law's Fashion, Arts, Media & Entertainment Law Center (FAME), The Recording Academy and Entertainment Law Initiative.

The discussion will center around where lines are being drawn in the copyright infringement debate, with leading litigators and academics involved in the most recent controversial cases.

This program has been approved by the NY CLE Board for a maximum of 1.5 professional practice credit hours.

"Protector or Suppressor?"

What is the effect copyright law is having on today's creator?

Speakers:

- Christopher Buccafusco
Professor, Director of Intellectual Property & Information Law Program, Cardozo Law School
- Brad Cohen '05
Senior Vice President & Head of Litigation,
Warner Music Group

attorneys

Christine Lepera

practice areas

entertainment & ip litigation

entertainment transactions

intellectual property

protector or suppressor?

- Christine Lepera
Partner, Mitchell Silberberg & Knupp LLP

- Carla Miller
Senior Vice President, Business & Legal Affairs,
Universal Music Group

- Michael Reinert '82, Moderator
Partner, Fox Rothschild LLP

View More Information