Mark Hiraide will be speaking at the Santa Barbara Blockchain Summit, Central California's first blockchain conference and developer bootcamp, on Saturday, November 23, 2019. Mark will discuss recent developments in the SEC's Crypto-Enforcement program, and what has been learned from the Telegram, Kik, ICOBox, and Block.one cases.

About the Santa Barbara Blockchain Summit

"Have you heard of blockchain and cryptocurrency, but still not sure how it works? Then you should save the date for the Santa Barbara Blockchain Summit on November 23 taking place in Corwin Pavilion! Join Blockchain at UCSB for a one-day educational conference where you will learn how this emerging technology promises to restore your digital sovereignty while disrupting legacy industries like banking, real estate, healthcare, supply chain management, advertising, and media.

This inaugural event is designed for anybody interested in learning about the role of technology in democracy, digital currencies, ethical data management, the Internet of Things (IoT), smart cities, privacy, decentralization, digital assets, and more.

In addition to a series of talks and panels, we will host over five hours of hands-on technical workshops on Ethereum or Hyperledger Fabric development in collaboration with the College of Engineering and Technology Management Program. Demand for blockchain engineers has increased over 515% in the last year, and attending the summit can help ensure you stay competitive in this rapidly-changing job market.

The first 200 people to sign up for this cutting-edge event will receive a $50 hardware wallet from ShapeShift."
