

did you steal my song? an international perspective

June 3, 2020

5:30pm - 6:30pm Central European Summer Time

Event Sponsor: International Association of Entertainment Lawyers and Midem

Christine Lepera and Bradley Mullins will be providing a Masterclass, in partnership with International Association of Entertainment Lawyers, for Midem Digital Edition on June 3, 2020.

Midem Digital Edition is a brand new initiative for the music community. It aims to bring the global music community together to get a better understanding of what's ahead for our industry in the post-COVID era, thanks to an amazing line-up of keynotes and speakers from every music sector.

This edition will also allow you to identify your next business partners amongst Midem Digital's participants and source artists from 55+ artists' profiles. You will have access to exclusive concerts and unique market intelligence, and can discover the first-ever Artist and Label Services Directory. All this from June 2-5, 2020!

attorneys

Christine Lepera

Bradley J. Mullins

practice areas

entertainment & ip litigation

intellectual property

"Did You Steal My Song? An International Perspective"

June 3, 2020

5:30pm - 6:30pm (Central European Summer Time)

This year the Masterclass will explore the manner in which courts across the United States, United Kingdom, and European Union assess whether a musical work infringes upon an earlier work, including discussions of the procedures followed, the legal doctrines considered, the role of experts and the potential relief available.

Moderator: Christine Lepera, Partner, Mitchell Silberberg & Knupp (US)

Speakers:

- Bradley Mullins, Partner, Mitchell Silberberg & Knupp (US)
- Gordon Williams, Partner, Lee & Thompson (UK)

did you steal my song? an international perspective

- Massimo Travostino, Partner, Studio Legale Associato Della Gatta Travostino Bottero & Associati (Italy).

View More Information