

ok, zoomer: a survival guide to the five-generation workplace

Javits Center, New York

November 20, 2025

9:30 AM – 10:15 AM EST

Event Sponsor: Security Investor Association

Lessing E. Gold will be speaking on the panel, "OK, Zoomer: A Survival Guide to the Five-Generation Workplace" at ISC East on November 20, 2025.

About the panel..

Today's workplace can span from Traditionalists to Generation Z, each with their own characteristics and work styles. Join us for a lively discussion between representatives from each generation as we decode our various values, communication styles and generational strengths and discuss some of the best practices for managing a multi-generational team.

This is a panel discussion for the Career Zone in which representatives from each generation (TBD) will share their experiences and provide insight into their generational strengths and motivators. The session will include a personal action plan for attendees and will wrap up with a Q&A session.

Panelists:

- Elaine Palome, Head of Human Resources, Americas, Axis Communications
- Ceres Silva, Solution Sales Director, North America, Idemia Group
- Ray Coulombe, Managing Director, Security Specifiers
- Sarah Webel, Human Resources Generalist, Sage Integration
- Lessing E. Gold, Partner, Mitchell Silberberg and Knupp, LLP
