

how does ip promote access to global development?

May 9, 2013

The U.S. Chamber of Commerce's Global Intellectual Property Center (GIPC) is hosting its first annual IP Champions Conference to recognize individuals who make positive contributions to our world through promoting and protecting intellectual property. The event will highlight the successes of creators and stewards of IP who have enhanced jobs, innovation, safety, and access.

Eric Schwartz will be speaking on a panel titled "How does IP Promote Access to Global Development?".

Click here to view the detailed agenda. For more information, please contact Kelly Anderson (kanderson@uschamber.com).

attorneys

Eric J. Schwartz

practice areas

entertainment & ip litigation
intellectual property