

your security customer contract: learn the risks & liabilities

Dallas, TX

October 14, 2015
8:30 am

Lessing Gold will be instructing a business growth course, titled "Your Security Customer Contract: Learn the Risks & Liabilities," at the CEDIA EXPO in Dallas, TX on October 14, 2015.

The security business can be profitable, but it also exposes companies to higher risks and liabilities inherent to security and emergency response services. To protect your business against the consequences of these higher risks, it is essential to have a security-specific customer agreement with robust legal protective provisions. Lessing's session will provide companies with an overview of key provisions to be included in any security industry customer agreement and discusses the significance of these agreements for your business.

More Information

Register

attorneys

Lessing E. Gold

practice areas

corporate & business
transactions