

melanie figueroa recognized among 2016 women worth watching

June 23, 2016

Profiles in Diversity Journal has recognized Melanie Figueroa, Managing Partner of MSK's New York office, among the 2016 Women Worth Watching Award winners.

Melanie is a partner in the firm's Corporate & Business Transactions Department. After joining MSK as part of the merger with Richardson Patel LLP in July 2015, she was later named the Managing Partner of the firm's New York office in January 2016. She most recently served as lead counsel for Viveve Medical, Inc. in the closing of its initial public offering (IPO) and uplisting to NASDAQ.

From Profiles in Diversity Journal:

Profiles in Diversity Journal today proudly announces the winners of the 15th Annual Women Worth Watching Awards®. In celebrating the 15th year anniversary, there have been 162 nominations selected as 2016 winners. These leaders join the ranks of thousands of past winners, several whom have gone on to become CEO of fortune 500 companies. While countless others have moved forward to lead new business units, drive new markets, launch new ventures, and help develop the next generation of women leaders.

"Collectively, these women are forging ahead with global acclaim in strategies that are making a difference in their workplace, marketplace and around the world," PDJ Publisher James Rector said. "These leaders bring an array of life experiences and views that consistently produce a variety of new concepts and ideas," he added.
