Mitchell Silberberg & Knupp LLP continues the expansion of its national labor and employment practice with the addition of Christie Del Rey-Cone as a partner in the firm's New York office.

Del Rey-Cone has extensive experience defending employers in the financial services, technology, entertainment, insurance, pharmaceutical and transportation industries against complex discrimination, harassment and retaliation lawsuits, as well as collective wage and hour actions and other matters. She regularly counsels corporate human resources and legal departments on a range of workplace matters and helps clients develop policies and best practices.

Del Rey-Cone comes to MSK from the New York-based employment law firm she co-founded in 2014. She previously had been a partner at Seyfarth Shaw and served a secondment with Goldman Sachs & Co.'s employment law group. Her experience also includes work at other global law firms and a clerkship with U.S. Magistrate Judge Arlene R. Lindsay of the U.S. District Court for the Eastern District of New York.

"Christie's arrival further bolsters our firm's premier labor and employment practice, particularly in New York and on the East Coast," said Mitchell Silberberg & Knupp Co-chair Lucia E. Coyoca. "Her wide-ranging litigation and counseling experience, both in-house and in national practices, across a variety of industries has enabled her to truly understand and support her clients' business needs."

A graduate of Franklin & Marshall College and Seton Hall University School of Law, Del Rey-Cone also has extensive mediation experience, which she will continue in private and pro bono settings in addition to her primary practice of
