

jay rosenthal mentioned in the hollywood reporter

June 3, 2015

Jay Rosenthal was mentioned in The Hollywood Reporter in the article "Hires and other moves in the entertainment legal sector," published on June 3, 2015.

From the article...

Mitchell Silberberg and Knupp has bolstered its music law practice. The firm, which has fought piracy for decades and now represents the record companies in the dispute over pre-1972 music copyrights, has hired former general counsel of the National Music Publishers' Association Jay Rosenthal as a partner in its entertainment and new media practice. Rosenthal, who has represented clients including Don Henley, Dave Bautista (Guardians of the Galaxy, Spectre) and Salt N Peppa, will work on litigation and transactions from the firm's Washington, D.C. office.

View Article

practice areas

entertainment & ip litigation

intellectual property

trademarks & brands