

marc mayer and matt beasley mentioned in law360 article

July 7, 2017

Marc Mayer and Matt Beasley were mentioned in an article, "Riot Games Says Apps Infringing League Of Legends Brand," published by Law360 on July 7, 2017. The article discusses the recent copyright suit, Riot Games, Inc. v. Shanghai Moonton Technology Co., Ltd. et al., filed on July 6, 2017. In the complaint, Riot Games accuses a Chinese mobile game maker of copying its League of Legends format to make a game for phones that's confusingly similar to the California company's popular hero game. Marc Mayer and Matt Beasley are mentioned in the article for representing the Plaintiff Riot Games.

This case is also being discussed on multiple industry news sites, such as gamesindustry.biz and Dot Esports.

View Law360 Article (subscription required)

View Dot Esports Article

View gamesindustry.biz Article

attorneys

Marc E. Mayer

practice areas

entertainment & ip litigation
video game