Adam Levin was mentioned in the article, "MGM, Paramount Say 'Ben Hur' Musicians Not Covered by Union Agreement," published by The Hollywood Reporter on September 28, 2017.

From the article...

"MGM and Paramount Pictures are moving to dismiss a lawsuit brought by a guild that claims musicians who recorded the score for the 2016 film remake of Ben Hur have been denied rightful wages, benefits and residual compensation. In a motion filed Wednesday, the studios argue that these musicians are not covered under a collective bargaining agreement."
