

steve schneider discusses likelihood of credit card self-regulation with transaction world.

October 3, 2008

While the House Judiciary Committee recently passed the Credit Card Fair Fee Act of 2008, the bill still has a long way to go before it becomes law. Reporter Jim Romeo reached out to MSK's Steve Schneider to discuss whether the credit card industry is on the path toward self-regulation.

attorneys

Steven M. Schneider