

all's fair in university copying case

Intellectual Property Magazine

November 2012

Lucy Holmes Plovnick co-authored the article "All's Fair in University Copying Case," which appeared in the November 2012 issue of Intellectual Property Magazine. The article examines fair use arguments in a federal lawsuit brought by three major publishing houses against officials of Georgia State University over the school's electronic reserve policy.

attorneys

Lucy Holmes Plovnick, AIGP, CIPP/US

practice areas

entertainment & ip litigation