

---

unenforceable copyrights: the plight of the music industry in a p2p file-sharing world

---

Brionna Ned
The University of Texas School of Law, The Review of Litigation

2014

Brionna Ned explains how peer-to-peer software is threatening the music industry and the legal impacts for intellectual property in her article, "Unenforceable Copyrights: The Plight of the Music Industry in a P2P File-Sharing World," published by The Review of Litigation in 2014.

View Publication

practice areas

litigation