ASSOCIATE

Overview

Driven by a deep passion for helping others through tough times, Julia found purpose in advocating for those in need. As a doctor of physical therapy, she dedicated herself to her patients' well-being, physically and emotionally. Her commitment to guiding them through difficult recoveries sparked a desire to expand her impact. Determined to sharpen her advocacy skills, she pursued a law degree, embracing a path that would allow her to serve others in a new way. She effectively helps clients from diverse backgrounds analyze problems and find creative solutions.

Julia supports the firm on retail matters, including product and premises liability. Clients appreciate her dedicated and compassionate approach to legal work. She goes the extra mile to learn about each client's unique situation and goals, tailoring effective solutions.
