

Aviation Insurance Coverage Issues in a Difficult Market: Viewpoints from Manufacturers, Airlines, and Insurers

Defense Research Institute, Seminar; Boston, Massachusetts
October 20, 2016

Mike McGrory will speak as part of a panel for the 2016 Defense Research Institute's Annual Meeting in Boston, Massachusetts. Insurance coverage for aircraft accidents can be very complicated when the accident implicates war risk coverage, space and satellite coverage, the apportionment of large loss among several insurers, foreign jurisdictions and allegations of criminal conduct. Attendees will learn about issues that arise with aviation coverage.
