

Amundsen Davis Hosts University of Illinois College of Law Students for Their “Expedition to the Profession” Day

Amundsen Davis, Seminar; Chicago, IL
October 6, 2016

Erin Walsh along with Amundsen Davis staff members, welcomed a group of 10 University of Illinois College of Law 1L/LLM students as part of their Fundamentals of Legal Practice Course's “Expedition to the Profession” day. Students asked candid questions regarding the practice of law and interacted with a full team of legal professionals. Topics included practical aspects of the business of law, professionalism, communications, business development, marketing, client service, project management and leadership. Amundsen Davis wishes these students years of success as they enter the legal profession!
