

Hiring, Background Checks, and Medical Credentialing in Health Care Organizations: What You Must Know in 2018

Amundsen Davis, Seminar; Chicago, IL
March 7, 2018 | 12:00 PM - 1:30 PM

Avoiding negligent hiring with proper background checks and credentialing are serious challenges for health care organizations. Being aware of and taking the proper steps to avoid issues is critical in today's increasingly litigious business environment.

Please join Heather Bailey and Jennifer Stuart on Wednesday, March 7 to learn how you can avoid the risks of negligent hiring and credentialing and how background checks can complement this critical process in order to protect patients and the organization from unqualified individuals and limit your organization's risk. Specific topics include:

Background Checks

- How to avoid negligent hiring through proper background checks
- Learn the EEOC's requirements for conducting background checks
- What is the Fair Credit Reporting Act and are you compliant?

Medical Credentialing

- What is negligent credentialing?
- Strategies to limit liability
- Credentialing challenges
- Responding to negligent credentialing lawsuits
- Common trends for negligent credentialing liability
- Regulatory and accreditation requirements for the credentialing process
- Laws affecting recruitment incentives and compensation arrangements
- Regulatory penalties for credentialing errors

We hope you can join either in-person or via webinar.
