August 13, 2020 | 3:30 PM - 4:30 PM CT

Are you a bit hazy on how to handle marijuana in the workplace? While marijuana may be legal in some states, it is not legal under federal law. Employers need to protect themselves, their employees, and their customers.

In this practical webinar, Heather Bailey will discuss how to deal with the important issues of handling both employee medical marijuana users and employee recreational marijuana users. You will leave the course with tools on how to create and implement processes for your employees who use marijuana for a medical condition.
