

What You Need to Know as You Transition Your Team Back to the Office

AssuredPartners, Webcast
May 12, 2021 | 10:00 AM - 11:00AM

With more and more people becoming vaccinated, more employers will be reopening their offices. Unfortunately, it isn't as simple as telling your employees that they need to return, as naturally there are a number of health and safety concerns.

Join Julie Proscia as she presents this timely webcast to help increase employers awareness of workplace safety and personnel issues and enhance their understanding of what should be considered before, during, and after this transition.
