With the advent of the federal Corporate Transparency Act (“CTA”), which requires filings by most newly formed and smaller existing corporations, limited liability companies, limited partnerships, or other similar entities created by a filing with the Secretary of State or other similar office, businesses should be aware of the upcoming compliance changes going into effect on January 1st, 2024.

Join Karen Tobin for a timely discussion on the changes to filing requirements going into effect at the beginning of 2024.
