

Speakers from Practice: Practicing Sports Law

Speaking Engagement

Marquette University's National Sports Law Institute and Sports Law Society,
Seminar; Milwaukee, WI
February 27, 2020

Corporate attorney, Charles Henderson participated in a panel discussion for Marquette University's National Sports Law Institute and Sports Law Society. This discussion was part of the organization's 'Speakers from Practice' series, where panelists provided insight on the realities of what it means to be a lawyer within their respective practice areas as well as the day-to-day activities they face within their profession. Charles discussed his career as a sports lawyer and how he was able to blend his sports practice into his practice as a corporate, business and nonprofit attorney.

The discussion took place at Eckstein Hall, located on Marquette University Law School's campus in Milwaukee, WI. For more information, please visit Marquette University Law School's Website.
