

Contributed Narratives for Medical Cannabis License Applications Across Several States

As part of a cannabis licensing team, Krissy played a key role in preparing state medical cannabis license applications for Alabama, Florida, and Texas. She conducted in-depth regulatory research to develop extensive outlines, ensuring compliance with each state's unique requirements. Through multiple rounds of narrative drafting and refinement, she helped produce first-rate, compliant applications for multiple applicants and license types. Because of her experience and knowledge, these applicants submitted well-structured, competitive applications, increasing their chances of securing licenses in highly regulated markets.
