

Defended a Bankruptcy Law Firm Against a Professional Liability Claim

Amundsen Davis defended a bankruptcy law firm against a professional liability claim in federal court. Finding that the court lacked subject matter jurisdiction, and that the action was frivolous, the court granted summary judgment in the law firm's favor, dismissing the case with prejudice, and enjoining plaintiffs from commencing an action in any state or federal court related to the underlying action.

PROFESSIONALS

Joe Trevino
Partner

RELATED SERVICES

Professional Liability