

Defended a Motor Carrier and Driver Against Alleged Negligence, Negligent Hiring Retention and Negligent Entrustment

Amundsen Davis defended a motor carrier and driver against a lawsuit from a plaintiff, who was also a commercial motor vehicle driver that was rear-ended by the defendant. The plaintiff alleged negligence, negligent hiring retention, and negligent entrustment. The plaintiff demanded policy limits and the case ultimately settlement for well under policy limits given the plaintiff's pre-existing conditions and medical records.
