

Defended a Police Department Against a Petition for an Injunction in a Fourth Amendment Search and Seizure Case

Suzannah Overholt prevailed in numerous employment discrimination and constitutional actions in state and federal court on behalf of state and local government. She successfully defended a police department against a petition for an injunction in a fourth amendment search and seizure case in federal district court and then successfully argued the case on appeal to the Seventh Circuit.

PROFESSIONALS

Suzannah Wilson Overholt
Partner

RELATED SERVICES

Labor, Employment &
Immigration

Workplace Investigations