

Defended an Employer and Negotiated Settlement Down in Workers' Compensation Case

After slipping and falling off of a roof while working, the petitioner sustained a head injury, three broken vertebrae, a broken arm, and two broken ankles. The case value was assessed to be upwards of $600,000 with approximately $250,000 in medical expenses alone. Diandra defended the employer and negotiated settlement down to $145,000.
