

Defended an Intellectual Property Firm from Negligence, Where the Opposition Alleged Over $10 Million in Damages

Amundsen Davis defended an out of state intellectual property firm from negligence, where the opposition alleged over $10 Million in damages. Through solid, qualified experts and successful motions in limine, the opposition drastically reduced their demand on the eve of trial, allowing the matter to be resolved for substantially less than what was previously sought.

PROFESSIONALS

Ken Perry
Partner

Michael P. Tone
Partner

RELATED SERVICES

Professional Liability