

Outside General Counsel to an Owner-Operated Freeze Dryer Company

Led by Joe Trevino, the Amundsen Davis team serves as outside general counsel to an owner-operated freeze dryer company for employment, intellectual property, commercial disputes, contract drafting, contract negotiation, and merger and acquisition related matters. Our team handles everything from drafting of the initial employee handbook through the ultimate sale of the company years later. This type of service is one that brings together multiple disciplines within our firm to work collaboratively on a clients day-to-day business needs.
