

Represented a World Class Athlete Against Claims that Horses Kept on his Premises Caused Injuries to a Rider

Amundsen Davis represented a world class athlete against claims that horses kept on his premises which caused injuries to a rider. Daniel Whiston was able to file a motion for summary judgment and secure a nominal settlement prior to the ruling on the motion. He secured good faith finding and resolved the matter quickly for the client.

PROFESSIONALS

Daniel R. Whiston
Partner

RELATED SERVICES

General Liability