

Successful Representation of Premise Owners and Retailers in Personal Injury Cases Across Illinois and Missouri

Edna McLain represented multiple premise owners and retailers in Illinois and Missouri in general personal injury cases ranging from slips, trips, falls, and product liability claims. She successfully obtained dismissals or favorable settlements for her clients. She obtained a summary judgment in federal court for a retailer by demonstrating that the customer's unauthorized use of a ladder constituted an open and obvious hazard. She also obtained summary judgment in a slip and fall case where the customer acknowledged not knowing what had caused the fall.
