

Successfully Defended a Client Wrongfully Accused of Causing Damage to a Home During a Renovation

Mark Middendorff represents clients facing wide-ranging allegations of liability. He successfully tried a case in which his client was wrongly accused of causing significant damage to a home during a renovation. The court agreed that while there was damage to the home, it could not have been caused by the defendant's work.

PROFESSIONALS

Mark E. Middendorff
Senior Counsel

RELATED SERVICES

General Liability